Jenderal Soedirman University
Recent Research in Agriculture

- Development of coconut sugar production technology
- Development of renewable energy for rural areas
- Rural agro-industry waste management
- Development of biodiesel production and management system
- Bio-grease development for small rural industry
- Development of food preservation using natural materials
- Development of bio-fortification of staple food
- Non destructive quality assessment of agricultural product
- Development of Rice Intensification System
- Development of agro-forestry system
- Development of organic farming
- Women empowerment for integrated pest management
- Development of technology for tropical pest management using local microorganism
- Development of Field School of Integrated Plant Management
- Development of plant culture technology for marginal sand field

More information about JSU visit www.unsoed.ac.id